

International Recruitment in a Capped Environment

Australasian Council of Deans of Arts, Social Sciences and Humanities Associate Deans International Network Meeting

12:00 - 17:00 Friday 11 May

RMIT Building 37 Level 3

411 Swanston St, Melbourne

The recent decision to reintroduce caps for Commonwealth Supported Places means that there is a renewed emphasis on international recruitment for most universities. This poses some significant challenges for the ASSH disciplines who have historically had a lower international recruitment base than areas like business, but also presents a number of new opportunities. This meeting will discuss the issues associated with international recruitment in the ASSH disciplines, and will draw together academic and professional staff to share their experiences.

The workshop will cover a range of topics including:

- Data on international enrolment in the ASSH disciplines
- Trends in recruitment activity
- Support for international students on-campus
- Opportunities in emerging recruitment markets.

Program

12:00	Networking lunch
12:45	International enrolment trends in arts, social sciences and humanities in Australia and New Zealand , Chris Ziguas, Professor, School of Global, Urban and Social Studies, RMIT and President, International Education Association of Australia
1:45	International student experience in the arts, social sciences and humanities , roundtable discussion
2:30	International recruitment strategies in arts, social sciences and humanities , Chris Francis, Head, International Recruitment, Swinburne University,
4:00	Articulation pathways, joint and double degrees , roundtable discussion
5:00	Drinks, Father's Office Speakeasy Bar and Restaurant, 249 Little Lonsdale St

In case of difficulties on the day please contact Mark on 0467 555 448 or Chris on 0414 870 543